PROGRAMME

Culture plays an important role in international arbitration as cases often involve parties from different countries (and consequently, different legal systems and traditions). Our evening seminar will examine the effects of culture on arbitral proceedings, offering unique practitioner insights from the Chinese and European perspectives. The panelists will discuss culture in international arbitration in both the investor-state and commercial arbitration domains.

Sophie Lamb is a partner in the London office of Latham & Watkins and global Co-chair of the firm's International Arbitration Practice.

Ms. Lamb is widely acknowledged as one of the leading practitioners of her generation. She is a trusted advisor to boards of public companies, to investors and to sovereign nations, routinely engaged in the most complex, high value and/or reputationally significant disputes of the moment. Her cases have featured in The Lawyer's top 20 cases of the year and she is listed as one of the UK's most influential and inspirational lawyers in their Hot 100 list for her successes "in billion dollar, high profile, politically sensitive and often market-shaping arbitration cases and related court trials."

Ing Loong Yang is a partner in the Hong Kong office of Latham & Watkins. Mr. Yang's practice focuses on international arbitration and complex commercial litigation in Asia, particularly on cross-border disputes involving Greater China.

He has represented clients in numerous international arbitrations under the rules of CIETAC, SIAC, ICC, HKIAC and UNCITRAL, as well as in the Hong Kong Courts. Mr. Yang is a Solicitor-Advocate of the Hong Kong Courts, with full rights of audience in the Hong Kong Courts.

Tan Sri Dato' Cecil Abraham is Senior Partner at Cecil Abraham & Partners. His career at the Bar spans 46 years. Within this time, he has appeared in the High Court of Malaya, the High Court of Sabah & Sarawak, the Election Court, the Court of Appeal, our former Federal Court, our then Supreme Court, our present Federal Court and the Special Court. He has also appeared before the Privy Council when the Privy Council was our court of final appeal. He has over 250 reported decisions of note to his name. He is first and foremost an advocate and is regarded by his peers and clients alike as one of Malaysia's leading counsel known to be devastatingly effective in Court. He has a strong reputation for dealing with complex disputes where the stakes are high and is known to work hard to achieve a satisfactory result for his clients.
