

Hollywood's New Leaders of 2022

Liliana Paparelli Ranger

Associate, Latham & Watkins – Law

Ranger, 35, counseled A24 Films across its production, distribution, joint-venture and financing transactions that included financing and distribution with regard to Ari Aster's "Disappointment Blvd.," Alex Garland's "Civil War" and Showtime's "The Curse." She also advised A24 in the formation of its makeup venture, Half Magic, with the creators of the hit "Euphoria." Ranger also played a central role in advising Endeavor and Endeavor Content on the sale of an 80% stake of Endeavor Content to South Korea's CJ ENM. She also handles podcast deals, including advising Spotify in its first-look pact with J.J. Abrams' Bad Robot.

True partners: "We really are deal generalists and A24 is a prime example of that," says Ranger. "Whether it's raising equity, starting a new venture, building out a brand or financing a single film or financing 10 films, we will be a part of it at every stage."
