➤ Shout-out to a team at Latham & Watkins representing Recor in patent litigation against affiliates of Medtronic, its rival in the market for devices used in renal denervation—a minimally invasive hypertension treatment. U.S. District Judge Trina Thompson in San Francisco this week dismissed counterclaims against Recor, finding Medtronic Ireland lacked standing because it had granted all its exclusionary rights in the patents to an affiliate—and non-party to the litigation—Medtronic Vascular Galway Unlimited Co. through an exclusive license agreement. The Latham team representing Recor includes partners Matt Moore, Roger Chin and Ashley Fry, counsel Allison Harms and associates Jake Vannette, Drew Roberts and Jorge Morales.
