

Law360 International Arbitration Editorial Advisory Board

Law360, New York (February 29, 2016, 8:30 PM ET) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2016 International Arbitration editorial advisory board.

The purpose of the editorial advisory board is to get feedback on Law360's coverage and to gain insight from experts in the field on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of the 2016 International Arbitration editorial advisory board are:

James J. Farrell, Latham & Watkins LLP

James Farrell is a litigation partner at Latham & Watkins and has broad experience in a wide variety of complex civil litigation. He has a significant international practice, including conducting internal investigations and defending civil and regulatory actions around the globe, including successfully defending an ICC arbitration involving claims over US$1 billion.

Emmanuel Gaillard, Shearman & Sterling LLP

Emmanuel Gaillard founded and heads Shearman & Sterling's International Arbitration practice. He acts as counsel and arbitrator in many of the largest investment treaty and commercial arbitrations. He has written extensively on all aspects of arbitration law and is universally recognized as a leading authority in the field.

Alvaro Galindo, Dechert LLP

Alvaro Galindo is international counsel at Dechert LLP. He advises on international arbitration. His practice focuses on the representation of sovereign states. He teaches International Arbitration at Georgetown University. Galindo was noted for his "incomparable capacity for coordinating, planning, and strategic assessment, and for his diplomatic approach" in the 2015 edition of The Legal 500 Latin America.

Miriam Harwood, Curtis Mallet-Prevost Colt & Mosle LLP

Miriam Harwood, partner at Curtis, concentrates on international arbitrations, including commercial disputes and investor-state treaty cases. She has represented government clients in several high-profile cases, including the multi-billion dollar disputes between Venezuela, ExxonMobil and ConocoPhillips. Other recent work includes construction contract disputes, oil project cost recovery and production sharing.

Don Hayden, Berger Singerman LLP

Don Hayden has extensive experience in handling cross-border disputes both through the courts and arbitration. He has successfully handled international arbitrations administered by all of the major arbitral institutions. He is a member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

William M. Katz Jr., Thompson & Knight LLP

William M. Katz Jr. is a trial partner in Thompson & Knight's Dallas office. He focuses his practice on complex business litigation and arbitration matters, with a focus on energy, antitrust, securities, healthcare and corporate governance issues. He represents clients before federal and state trial and appellate courts, arbitration panels, and administrative agencies.

William T. O'Brien, Dentons

William O'Brien is an experienced international arbitration and litigation attorney who is recognized as a leading practitioner in this area. He advises clients on, among other issues, breach of contract disputes, enforcement of awards, treaty issues, sovereign immunity, defense against fraud and corruption, and multi-jurisdictional matters.

Elliot Polebaum, Fried Frank Harris Shriver & Jacobson LLP

Elliot Polebaum leads Fried Frank's International Arbitration practice. He regularly sits as arbitrator, and has appeared as counsel before tribunals throughout the world in more than 140 cases. He teaches international arbitration at Georgetown and authored "International Arbitration: Commercial and Investment Treaty Law and Practice." He served as law clerk to Supreme Court Justice William Brennan and U.S. Circuit Judge James Oakes.

Dietmar Prager, Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

Dietmar W. Prager is a litigation partner in Debevoise's New York office who focuses his practice on international arbitration and litigation. Prager has represented parties in arbitrations throughout the world. His recent representations include disputes involving bilateral investment treaties, complex construction projects, oil and gas, sovereign debt, and distribution agreements.

Jan K. Schaefer, King & Spalding LLP

Jan K. Schaefer, admitted in Germany, partner at King & Spalding in Frankfurt. He works as counsel in commercial and investment arbitration matters and appears before court at first instance and appeals levels. Schaefer has sat in more than 35 cases as arbitrator. He is widely published and on the litigation committee of the German Federal Bar.
