

Litigator of the Week

Runners-Up and Shout Outs

► Shout out to a team at Latham & Watkins that got one of a number of proposed class actions pending against CCC Intelligent Solutions Inc., knocked out on a motion for judgment on the pleadings in the Middle District of Florida. This case, in particular, claimed that CCC systematically applied unexplained and unjustified condition adjustments when determining the value of wrecked cars deemed to be “total losses.” But U.S. District Judge William Jung in Tampa this week found the plaintiff was not a third-party beneficiary of the service agreement between CCC and his insurer. The Latham team representing CCC includes partner Marguerite Sullivan, counsels Jason Burt and Steven Pacini and associates George Chipev, Ryan Baasch, Sam Chang and Parag Dharmavarapu.

► Shout out to a separate team at Latham who secured the dismissal of a shareholder derivative suit against client Switch Inc. in Nevada state court, the last of parallel state and federal securities class actions and derivative litigation stemming from Switch’s 2017 IPO. The Latham team was led by partners Joshua Hamilton, Michele Johnson, and Andrew Gray and associates Meryn Grant, Ryan Walsh, Setareh Homayoni, Natasha Pardawala, Kendall Howes, Emily Orman, Lindsey Sugimoto, Clayton LaForge and Remy Lamos.
