► Shout out to a team at Latham & Watkins that represented Camping World Holdings Inc. and the company's officers and directors, in knocking out a derivative suit last week at the Delaware Court of Chancery. In one of the first rulings applying the demand futility analysis laid out in last year's Zuckerberg decision from the Delaware Supreme Court, Vice Chancellor Lori Will found that the plaintiffs in the insider trading case hadn't sufficiently shown that any defendant traded based on material nonpublic information. The Latham team led by partners Andrew Clubok, Eric Swibel and Jooyoung Yeu with associates Kathryn George and Katherine Magaziner.
